This half day workshop will make every other day of your academic and professional life more productive, more effective and more rewarding.

You will learn to trade one-word-at-a-time reading habits for new, more dynamic techniques that can increase your reading speed as much as 100 percent and build comprehension and retention at the same time.

You Will Learn Practical Techniques To:

-  Screen material for its value to instantly pinpoint what you need to read.
-  Use the techniques speedreaders use to rapidly absorb internet information and emails, documents, novels, journals, and periodicals.
-  Realize an immediate 20% to 200% (or more gain) in reading efficiency for general information.
-  Dramatically increase this gain upon further practice.
-  Layer the information you absorb for enhanced speed, recall, and retention on detailed as well as general information.
-  Learn additional techniques for technical reading with note taking methods that aid in mastering and organizing information for future use—exams, reports and presentations.
